The Berry Firm understands truckers and the Transportation Industry and is committed to their clients when adversity arises. The Berry Firm serves their clients throughout Texas and Oklahoma and takes cases to trial that other law firms shirk. Their philosophy is to prepare cases for trial rather than settlement, which maximizes their client's position and makes their opponents realistic in the evaluation of the claim. The Berry Firm Motto: MAKE IT HAPPEN.

The Berry Firm approaches Trucking lawsuits before they begin, looks under every stone, defends each claim vigorously, and masters expert testimony to maximize their client's position.

The Firm offers risk management and prevention services, drawing from its experiences in defending these lawsuits, to help its clients prevent claims. These services help minimize incidents and help facilitate communication and understanding between the Firm and the clients' employees when a lawsuit does develop.

The Firm has an Emergency Response Program to respond immediately when an incident does occur—those first moments at the scene are an invaluable opportunity to collect evidence and start developing the plan for trial.

The Berry Firm will run, not walk, to the courthouse. The Firm knows the science and mechanics of trucking litigation better than their adversaries. The Firm aggressively attacks their opponents' experts to knock the case out completely or trim it down to its minimum. The Firm tries and wins cases based on lack of causation when negligence cannot be overcome.

According to "Bo" Berry, owner of The Berry Firm and head trial attorney, "Trucking cases are always significant cases. Often, the defendants feel powerless and held up at gunpoint by aggressive plaintiff counsel. We help our clients bite the bit, develop the strengths of the case, address areas that need addressing, and act as a leader in taking the case to trial if claimants cannot be reasonable."

The Berry Firm embraces challenge and, "Makes It Happen."
